PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by Dr. Frank Ornburn, Chaplain, McDill Air Force Base, Tampa:

Almighty and Eternal God, you have been our helper in time past, and we ask for your continual presence as we face another exciting day of challenge and change.

Thank you for each representative here and for their commitment to our country. As they labor this day to make Florida a better place to live and work, we ask your blessings be upon them and their families. Assist those of us who look to them for leadership to give them our support and prayers.

Help us all to be thankful for this great country of ours that you have blessed, and endow each of us with the courage and conviction to keep it in your hands. We ask not for tasks more suited to our strength, but strength more suited to our tasks. Grant each of us a positive faith that we may see in every difficulty an opportunity—in every blessing a responsibility—and in every protection a purpose.

Finally, may the faith and love that strengthened our forefathers so inspire us that we may serve the needs of our people without counting the cost, even as they did not count the cost in theirs.

In your name, we pray. Amen.

PLEDGE

Senate Pages, Stephanie Cahan of Branford and Scott Ogden of Palm Harbor, led the Senate in the pledge of allegiance to the flag of the United States of America.

Following item 1242B:

It is the intent of the legislature to reduce the effect on the State's surface waters from urban stormwater drainage in the most cost-effective and efficient manner available. Stormwater is the largest contributor of pollutant loading to Florida's surface waters, with discharges from older urban drainage systems and developed areas contributing the greatest impacts. Reducing stormwater pollutant loadings from developed areas is very difficult and expensive due to the scarcity and costliness of land which can be used for traditional stormwater control practices such as retention or detention systems. In such cases, the use of source controls, which prevent pollutants from entering stormwater, are preferred since they would appear to be more cost effective. Street sweepers are one source control which may have extensive applicability in urban areas, especially central business districts. However, the pollutant removal effectiveness of street sweepers is not well known. In order to study and evaluate the effectiveness of street sweepers in this regard, funds provided in Specific Appropriation 1242B are to, at a minimum, evaluate the environmental benefits of using production models of the High Technology Particulate Separator and a commonly-used vacuum sweeper, the Enviro Whirl sweeper. The Department of Environmental Protection shall submit a report to the Legislature describing the results of their findings with regard to the pollutant removal and cost effectiveness of these models by December 31, 1995.

DEPARTMENT OF

Insert the following new paragraph of proviso language:

From the funds provided in Specific Appropriations 317 through 531, the department must develop a method to evaluate each program operated by a provider under contract with the department on an annual basis. As part of this evaluation, the department must establish standards applicable to like services throughout the state. These standards must be measurable and objective and determined if the condition or circumstances that necessitated the service to individuals has been changed substantially or eliminated. If the provider fails to meet the minimum thresholds established in the contract by these standards the department may allow up to six months for the provider to achieve compliance with the minimum thresholds. If these thresholds are not met and there are not documented extenuating circumstances, the department must cancel the contract for the services. In rebidding the contract or doing sole source contracting, the department may not re-enter a contract with that same provider for the services just cancelled for a period of at least 12 months from the time of cancellation. By October 1, 1995, the department shall submit to the chairmen of the Senate and House Appropriations Committee, a report which outlines its progress towards the development of these standards and specific timelines for the completion of the work by June 30, 1996. These standards are to be utilized and included in contracts beginning Fiscal Year 96-97.
